

Ogden the Orange Orangutan

A funny thing happened when Ogden was born
When he came out, he was a bright orange

During the day when the sun would shine down
Others could see him from miles around

And when it was dark late at night
Ogden was shining like a bright light

Because he was different, others were afraid
Ogden's feeling were hurt by the things that they said

So he lived in the forest inside an old tree
Until one day a fairy came to see.
